

Nationwide Molly Pitcher Tag Day

Washington, D. C.—On August 4th, Molly Pitcher is stepping out of the pages of American history to sell War Bonds and Stamps. The girl who carried water to thirsty soldiers during the blistering Revolutionary Battle of Monmouth and took over her husband's cannon when he was wounded, has long been a symbol of the heroism of American women.

In her honor, brigades of modern Molly Pitchers will take their stands on nationwide Molly Pitcher Day at street corners, building entrances, and in public places to sell the bonds and stamps that back up our modern fighting men.

A red-white-and-blue Molly Pitcher tag will be given to everyone who purchases a bond or stamp on that day. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary, and of the Independent Food Distributors Council, unit of Molly Pitchers, will aid and suggest local Women's War Savings Stuffs to make up the volunteers to hold their supplies of tags and War Stamps. The slogan on the tags will read "Fill the Pitcher with Bonds and Stamps on Molly Pitcher Day," and the flag of the sales force will be to "tag" the total population.

Molly Pitcher Tag Day, August 4

The modern Molly Pitcher will greet you throughout the nation on August 4th when brigades of Mollys will tag every buyer of War Bonds and Stamps. They will carry on the tradition of the Revolutionary War heroine who has gone down in history because she aided her fighters at the battle of Monmouth in 1778.

WASHINGTON—The Atlantic coast carrying supplies to our troops or Allies. Without warning an enemy torpedo strikes the vessel, shattering a hole in its side and, incidentally, wrecking the wireless, says University Service.

Those men killed by the explosion pile into boats and lifeboats. They are aware that it has been impossible to send an SOS and look forward to days of drifting at sea, facing thirst, hunger, exposure and probable death.

But the situation is less hopeless than it seems. Before abandoning ship the captain has written a brief message on this paper, placed it in a small metal capsule, and attached it to the leg of a homing pigeon, and sent it off with the bird.
